Junior of the Year Contest

Do you feel that your club has an outstanding member that you would like recognized as Junior of the Year? At Spring Conference I will announce the member chosen as Junior of the Year along with a few honorable mentions.

This is a quick, fun, at the whim of the outgoing Director contest.

Deadline: April 15, 2010

Limit: 1 member per club

Directions:

1. Submit a one page (max. 550 word) write up via email to Bruneauchris@hotmail.com marked "Junior of the Year" in the subject line.
2. Submission can be written up by anyone in the club (but only one per club – if more than one is received, I will accept only the first one.)
3. The candidate can be a leader or general member, she can be a seasoned member or a rookie, anyone the club decides is worthy.
4. I am looking for the Junior of the Year, so I am looking for Junior dedication, Junior activities, Junior spirit, etc. Since this is strictly for Junior Spirit (and fun) I will not be swayed by outside activities.

So quickly put your thinking caps on and show me your Junior Spirit.

District Spirit Challenge

Long gone are the days of 300+ members at conference, the days of cheering clubs on with noise makers as they win awards, the days of club sashes, hats & unique homemade name tags to identify members of one club.

Does your district have the Junior Spirit? I am putting a challenge out to the District Reps and clubs for Spring Conference – I am looking for the district that has the largest percentage of clubs present at Spring Conference, and yes, I will include CJW Board members.

Over the years the CJW board has worked hard to make conferences and state meetings informative, educational and fun for members to attend, so I hope you will give us another try and attend Spring Conference, May 1st at the Clarion in Bristol.
